

Popular Economics-related Student Groups:

Finance and Business

Business Today

Business Today's mission is to create a dynamic forum for influential business leaders to interact with top undergraduate students from campuses worldwide.

Corporate Finance

We provide a platform for students to exchange ideas about corporate finance and learn from professionals in the industry. We empower our members with a network of support from fellow Tigers.

Federal Reserve Challenge Team

Every fall, Princeton participates in the Federal Reserve Challenge, a national college competition where students are asked to reproduce a typical FOMC meeting.

Fintech

Princeton Fintech is a club designed to bring students together interested in fintech. We also aim to help students develop a passion for working on FinTech projects and connecting with innovators in the industry and academia.

Princeton Women in Economics & Policy

Our mission is to encourage more women to pursue economics.

Real Estate

We aim to promote the commercial real estate industry to current undergraduate students. We partner with the Princeton Alumni Real Estate Network to give students the tools they need to succeed in real estate.

Investing

Effective Altruism Alpha

Effective Altruism Alpha is the Ivy League's first impact investing fund. To put it simply, we seek good returns for good causes. It is a hub for those interested in using their financial skills for positive social impact.

Tiger Capital Education

Tiger Capital Education is Princeton's largest student-run investment club. Our mission is to provide Princeton undergraduate students with practical investing experience through the pursuit of market-beating returns.

Tiger Investments

Tiger Investments is a student organization that focuses on financial education and investment research. Our mission is to help members gain and apply the foundational tools they need to navigate the investing world.

Smart Women Security

SWS focuses on investment education through instructive seminars, mentoring initiatives, meetings with investors such as Warren Buffett, and provides resources for greater knowledge of the financial markets.

Consulting

180 Degrees Consulting

The Princeton branch of 180 Degrees Consulting - a global, university-based consultancy that takes on clients looking to solve some of the world's most pressing issues. We seek to improve education, alleviate poverty, and improve the global community.

Analytics Group

The Princeton Analytics Group is a student-run consultancy that partners with for and non-profit corporate clients in solving real-world business problems.

Princeton University Nonprofit Consulting

PUNC, is a pro-bono consulting group that is proud of its dual mission of community service and business training. Our members are passionate about serving the community and making a measurable difference for our partner organizations.

TAMID

TAMID Princeton works to develop the entrepreneurial and professional skills of undergraduate students through hands-on consulting experience with Israeli technology and consulting companies.

The full list of student organizations can be found here: The full list of student organizations can be found here:

<https://odus.princeton.edu/student-organizations-and-activities>